UMBRELLAS AND RUBBER FOOT-WEAR THE PROPER THING TO-DAY, SAYS WEATHER MAN.

According to Weather Forecaster Hyatt, a warm snow or rain storm may be looked for today. The maximum temperature in this city yesterday was 32 degrees, while the low range of the thermometer was 22 degrees. These conditions prevailed generally in Utah and in both Colorado and Nevada.

Plans are being matured, it is said, for an eight-story bank and office building on the corner now occupied by Walker Bros. bank, at Main and Second streets. The building is to be erected by the J. R. Walker estate at a cost of $300,000. The first floor will be erected especially for banking purposes, and the upper stories will contain sixty offices. Several elevators will be provided.

The police were informed yesterday morning that some one had chopped a hole in the rear door of Rigby Bros. grocery store and meat market at 412 South West Temple, during the night, and the cash drawer and taken 50 cents in dimes and nickels. About a week ago the same store was burglarized and a case of eggs and some groceries stolen.

B., will attend in a body. The public is also cordially invited.

At the local weather works yesterday the barometer was on the toboogan, while the mercury took the elevator. Dr. Hyatt explained that this peculiar condition of affairs was caused by a heavy storm which was central on the northern Pacific coast, and he read the signs it meant for us. Rain, followed by snow, either last night or today. There were threatening clouds during the night, with continued high pressure.

WILD COUNT WARD UNLOAD HIS OWN APEX STOCK?

Attachment Suit for $125,000 Brought in Massachusetts Against Everett Webster and Ward, Armstrong & Co. of Boston by Utah Apex Mining Company.

(TRIBUNE SPECIAL.)
Salem, Mass., Feb. 4.—An attachment for $125,000 was recorded with the register of deeds today against Everett Webster of Boston, as well as the old firm of Ward, Armstrong & Co. of that city, on an action of contract brought by the Utah Apex Mining company of Boston and Utah. Various reasons are ascribed for the suit, which is somewhat shrouded in mystery. One given is that the company desires to learn how much stock has been disposed of in England by Count Reginald Ward, who was connected with the Utah Consolidated company some years ago. It is said that a number of shares have been sold to British investors, but instead of coming from the treasury holdings, were some that a promoter unloaded from his own possession. The Utah Apex company was launched after the Utah Consolidated had been put into the market. Both Count Ward and Everett Webster, who were interested in the Apex company about the time of its formation, are now in Europe.

OGDEN IS IN HIDING FROM WOULD-BE WIVES

Small matters are often attended with results of greater magnitude than the originator would ever have imagined, and the letter written by Frank R. Ogden asking the Chief of Police of Chicago to secure his arrest, has placed more trouble upon his shoulders than the little man can bear. It was more than the nature of any man could stand, and after the letters came pouring in. But that was not all, for after the first day the girls began to call. Some were short and some were tall and some were slim and some were fat. A few were comely and more were homely, some were widows and some were maids, but they were all after the little man with soft dark eyes and wavy black hair.

Ogden stood the siege for three days and then his nerve failed. The many applicants for the position as wife became more than he could stand, and he finally gave up on his coat and hat and ran away from it all. He was last seen in his suite of rooms in the Colorado hotel at an early hour yesterday morning.

IN THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Many beautifully appointed dinners have been given at the Amelita Palace, but the one of last evening, when Col. and Mrs. Holmes entertained ten guests, was the most beautiful of all. Indeed it is doubtful if the artistic beauty of the decorations has ever been surpassed at a similar event in this city. Muses of plumes covered the chandelier and around the edge, falling almost to the tall cutglass vase of carnations which occupied the center of the round table, were graceful loops of broad satin ribbon, the colors of green and red alternating. From the base of the cutglass vase and radiating in all directions toward the outer edge of the table were rows and rows of deep red carnations resting on a bed of white flowers, the whole extending within a foot of the table's edge. Silver candelabra with four red candles stood on either side of the table. The favors for the gentlemen were beautifully bound volumes of Milton's "Paradise Lost," while each lady received a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Last Minister, bound in bright plaid silk. Clusters of deep red carnations were also found at the plates of the guests.

Mrs. John Woodward and Miss Judge were hostesses at a very charmingly appointed luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Ida Noble. The decorations were exquisite, indeed, carried out entirely in white and green. In the center of the table was a square centerpiece of lilies of the valley, and on either side a single crystal candelstick. Fluffy tufted covered the cloth and plumes entwined the chandelier. Clusters of lilies of the valley were found at the plates of the guests, and to the place cards were attached hearts, painted with cupid. Covers were laid for twelve.

The Misses Coffey were hostesses at an elegantly appointed dinner party at the Kenyon last evening. American Beauty roses formed the decorations and covers were laid for ten.

This evening at Unity hall the senior class of the High school gives a dancing party. The chaperons will be Mrs. W. V. Nelson, Mrs. F. B. Stephens, Mrs. Short and Mrs. Havener.

Mrs. S. H. Babcock returned yesterday from Denver where she went to meet her friend, Miss Buford of Tennessee, who will be her guest for some time.

P. W. Francis left Wednesday for an extended visit in the East.

Members of the Bridge club were very pleasantly entertained at the home of the Misses Hanauer.

Mrs. Frederick W. Hayt of Park City, has gone to New York for a three month's visit. Mr. Hayt will be down the first of the week to be the guest of his sister, Mrs. Richard A. Keyser.

Mr. and Mrs. Benner N. Smith will not return from California until the latter part of next week.

Mrs. W. W. Ritter will entertain at luncheon to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Stowe leave today for a month's visit in Southern California.

The Elks are planning a big reception for next Thursday evening in honor of the wives, daughters and sweethearts of the members.

Miss Blomson Mitchell has gone to California for a visit of some weeks with friends.

Mrs. Albert Herz left yesterday for a four day visit with relatives and friends in Chicago. Mr. Herz left yesterday for California.

Mrs. Rosemary Glose-Whitney has entirely recovered from her recent illness and is now at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glose, on North State street. Mrs. Whitney leaves shortly for New York.

One of the most largely attended and successful parties yet given at the university was that of last evening, when the University Engineering society entertained some 40 students and friends. The large hall separating the gymnasium and the museum hall was attractively decorated with palms and many bright-colored lanterns. Here the musicians' stand was placed, the edge of the platform banked with palms. A large platform in the museum hall was appropriately decorated with picks, shovels and surveying instruments. Palms were arranged all around the hall, and many couples and couples were made in the museum hall. Crispin and silver, the University places, formed streamers extending from the chandeliers the walls on all sides, and University pennants
